ROCHESTER WOMAN'S CLUB HAS MEETING

Members and guests of the Rochester Woman's Club were intrigued and frequently amused with Mrs. Frederick Underhill's very entertaining account of her life while living among "The Plain People of Pennsylvania". Mrs. Underhill lived in the same house with a Menonite family in Lancaster, Pa., and grew to know and like them although their way of life is so very different. Colorful slides were shown as the speaker gave a running commentary. She also brought to the club some very old and beautifully done pieces of needlework--beading, needlepoint and embroidery---which had been done by a member of Mrs. Underhill's family, a Mrs. Bisbee of Rochester many years ago. Members were amazed at the artistry and workmanship in these articles.

Mrs. James R. Lincoln, the First District Director, was special guest and spoke to the members of the value of scholarships, the many interesting items found in the "Federation Topics", the Woman's Club magazine and the increased need for veterans' bags this year and the large afghans. Mrs. Lincoln also mentioned the various coming dates of interest to clubwomen--the Club Institute held at the Y.W.C.A. in Boston on the first Thursday of each month at 10:00 and open to all clubwomen, the Fall meeting at Dean Junior College, Franklin, Mass. on October 29, and the First District Leadership Institute at the Wareham Monday Club, Wareham, Mass. on November 21 from 10:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. These meetings are open to all club members.

deadline for all money and listings to be in was October 15, Wednesday evening, at a meeting at her home at 7:30 P.M. Members of her committee are Mesdames Abraham Jackson, Kenneth Winslow, Henry Smith, George Church, Fred Church and Greenwood Hartley, Sr. Mrs. Abraham Jackson reported that pies and cakes had been solicited among members for the week of October 6 to 10 for the Tobey Snack Bar. Mrs. Blanche Robinson of the Tobey Hospital Guild also said there was a need for volunteer workers at the snack bar.

Mrs. Frank T. Howland reported for her Department of Music and told of her plans to form a choral group. Anyone who is interested in joining may call Mrs. Howland and it is not limited to club members. Mrs. William T. Hall, chairman of Religion, was unable to be present but sent a prayer which was read by Mrs. Robert Felton. Mrs. Harry Peckham reported for the Social Welfare Department and asked for contributions for the Christmas baskets to be brought in to the November meeting.

Mrs. Ward Benner was chairman of the hostess committee and was assisted by Mrs. Harry Coggeshall, Miss Beryl Coggeshall and Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Jr. Refreshments of dainty sandwiches and cupcakes were served buffet style and the centerpiece was a charming pair of colorful wild ducks holding fall flowers.

LITERATURE-DRAMA GROUP HAVE MEETING

Members of the Literature-Drama group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club met last Tuesday afternoon with the chairman, Mrs. Robert Flanders of North Street, Mattapoisett. Following a dessert and coffee hour, members played a word scrable game of book titles with Mrs. Willis Collyer the winner. Each member mentioned books that she had read during the summer. At the next meeting on November 13th, at the home of Mrs. Flanders, members will review and discuss the book, "Women and Thomas Harrow", by John P. Marquand, and also will discuss the play, "Little Women", seen last Thursday night on television.

Members of this group will plan the program for the January meeting of the Woman's Club. Tentative plans were made for presenting a play at this time, and Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. Charles B. Dunn and Mrs. Donald C. Jason will select a play.

GIBBONS STATES THAT STATE TAXES WILL BE HIGHER

"It is now certain the citizens of Massachusetts are in for new and higher taxes before the end of the year", Charles Gibbons, candidate for Governor said.

"The new taxes, resulting from the present Governor's inability to balance his budget, will immediately have a three-fold effect on Massachusetts residents", Gibbons continued.

"Simultaneously, tenants will feel the pinch of even higher rents, home owners will be saddled with larger monthly payments, and retail business will suffer from a drastic reduction in spendable income", he said.

" A new shadow will also fall on the perilous picture of job security in the State", Gibbons said. "A new tax will be the straw that breaks industry's back. Even now our largest employers of workers are seriously considering moves to a more favorable business climate. They are discovering that it is cheaper to rebuild elsewhere than to pay the high cost of doing business in Massachusetts", he emphasized.

"It is inevitable that an additional tax burden must result in a lowered standard of living here while other parts of the nation are enjoying increased prosperity", he said.

Gibbons blamed the present Governor's "complete lack of logical consideration of our problems, his financial irresponsibility and his coterie of tax-supported cronies working solely for his re-election" as the primary reasons for the Commonwealth's present difficulties.
